DETAILS: AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

Confidential Informant T-1 of known reliability, who maintains contact with Philippine authorities, advised that the Hukbalahap movement in the Philippines seems to be losing strength and aggressiveness. He said the president of the Philippines had in the recent past offered amnesty to the rank and file members of the Huks, and that many members had laid down their arms and taken advantage of the opportunity to abandon the Huk Guerrillas. The informant stated that many of the Huks were people who desired Agrarian reforms, and when such reforms were not forthcoming they joined up with the Huks to try to force the government to place reforms demanded into effect. He said, no doubt, the leadership of the Huks had come under the influence of Communism, but many of the rank and file members have no particular interest in Communism, and will probably return to normal life once the desired land reforms are fully put into effect.

T-1 advised that he has been unable to establish any activity or communication between the Huks and persons in the United States. If there is any activity in the United States in behalf of the Huks it is of small proportions and of little consequence.

SE CLYDE EUGENE PARRISH caused a search to be made of the officer and enlisted files of the Army and Air Force for a file pertaining to PEDRO PAJOTA HOLANDA, aka, PEDRO HOLLANDA, and was advised that no record could be found in Washington, D. C.

MR. D. W. MIKAITIS, Chief, Ordnance Branch, National Production Authority, advised that he served in the Philippines from 1943 to 1946, as an Army Counter Intelligence Corps Agent, but that his duties did not involve the Huk movement, but were concerned with collaborating with the American Consul in connection with persons from the Philippines trying to enter the United States. He advised that GORDON HARRIS, who is now in the newspaper business in Dover, New Jersey, and who was also in the Counter Intelligence Corps in the Philippines, had worked almost exclusively with Huk cases and has been trying to keep up with them since returning to private life. He said HARRIS would know more about members of the Huks and of any contacts with persons in the United States than anyone else he knew of.

MR. D. W. MIKAITIS advised that he has never heard of LEE ASH, JR., and could furnish no information regarding him.

[redacted] Washington Finance Office, United States Army, made available the Finance Office file pertaining to PEDRO P. HOLANDA, Army serial numbers 6736045 and W 2123051, whose current address is Post Office Box 575, Riverbank, California. HOLANDA received a disability discharge from the Army on March 31, 1949, at Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco, California, after 20 years service in the United States Army. reply thereto dated June 3, 1952, in which you were advised that any indication that there is a connection between the abovecaptioned apparatus and the American Communist Party or any other group in the United States would be of interest to this Bureau.

In this connection the Washington Star on June 10, 1952, carried an article captioned "Communication Link Between Reds in U. S. And Philippines Bared." According to this article, Philippine National Defense Secretary, Ramon Magsaysay, stated on June 10, 1952, that Philippine and American authorities have uncovered a secret communication link between Communists in the United States and Communist Tugs fighting in the Philippines.

Magsaysay, according to the article, stated that coded messages, smuggled into the islands through airlines serving Manila and San Francisco, were intercepted. Further, that the messages supplied evidence of a close tie-up between the "Reds" and that other intercepts had been found aboard planes from Hong Kong and Europe to Manila.

It is requested that you advise this Bureau of any information presently available or subsequently may come to your attention concerning this matter.

Communication Link Between Reds in U. S. And Philippines Bared

Island Defense Chief
On Way Here Tells of Intercepting Code

By the Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Philippine and American authorities have uncovered a secret communication link between Communists in the United States and Communist Huk fighting in the Philippines, Philippines National Defense Secretary Ramon Mag-saysay said today.

Coded messages smuggled into the islands through air lines serving Manila and San Francisco were intercepted, he said. The messages supplied evidence of a close tieup between the Reds, he asserted. Other intercepts have been found aboard planes from Hong Kong and Europe to Manila.

Means of breaking the communications line with the co-operation of air line officials are under close study, he said in an interview.

The husky 45-year-old defense secretary heads east today aboard a Military Air Transport Service plane for Washington. He will meet President Truman at the White House. Defense Secretary Robert Lovett and other officials in a busy five-day visit.

Mr. Magsaysay for two years has led a winning battle against the Huk guerrillas. He gained international attention for his use of army regulars and 5,000 student reserve troops in insuring a clean national election in November, 1951.

He also was responsible for the deportation of several Chinese millionaires linked with the Red movement in the Philippines. A month after taking office in September, 1950, he smashed the Red Politburo for the islands.

HARRIS wrote an article on the activity of the Huks in the Philippine Islands. Article published in 1948. Article set out. HARRIS has no first-hand information on CP activities in Philippine Islands since 1946 but advised he has been following their activities closely in magazine articles and newspapers. HARRIS has no knowledge of activities between Huks in Philippine Islands and persons in the United States at the present time. HARRIS does not know LEE ASH, JR. HARRIS stated that he recalled VICENTE LAVA was Professor in the University of the Philippines at Manila and Technical Advisor to the Huks. FERNANDO LAVA was Confidential Advisor to President OSMENA in Malacanan, Philippine Islands, and the third LAVA brother, name unknown, was in the Censorship Office of the United States Army prior to the end of the war. DETAILS:

At Dover, N.J.

Major GORDON L. HARRIS, Ordnance Corps, Intelligence Officer of Picatinny Arsenal, Dover, N.J., advised that he was formerly the editor of the Lakeland News in Dover, N.J. and that he returned to active duty in the Army in January of this year.

HARRIS stated that during the last war he was a CIC agent stationed in the Philippine Islands and during the last few months of 1945 he was sent to Northern Luzon in the Philippines with orders to observe and report the activities of the Hukbalahap movement.

HARRIS furnished the following brief history of the Hukbalahap in the Philippines:

He stated that in March 1942 in the Bulacan Province of the Philippines three men, LUIS ~~TARUC~~, CASTRO ~~ALEJANDRINO~~ and Dr. VICENTE ~~LAVA~~ formed the Hukbalahap movement. He advised that all three of these people in his opinion were members of the Communist Party and had been trained in early years in Moscow. He stated that the Huk movement was formed to fight the Japanese and while they were fighting the Japanese they formed cadres in the rural sections of Luzon. He explained that the Japanese occupation Army only controlled the city areas during their occupation and the Huks recruited by force persons that were in positions to control and influence large groups of the masses of the Philippine peasants, such as, school superintendents, city officials and persons with other public positions. These persons were schooled and were told that as soon as the Japanese were driven out of the Philippines the Huk would set up a People's Government with the recruited persons in positions of authority.

He stated that the Huks did set up their government after the American Army drove the Japanese out of the Philippines but that the American Army refused to recognize the Huk Government and instead recognized the original Commonwealth Government of the Philippines.

NK 105-785

HARRIS stated that this caused a vicious period of revolution between the Huks and the Commonwealth Government, which was finally quieted down by the arrest by American CIC agents of LUIS TARUC and CASTRO ALEJANDRINO. He advised that both of these persons were put in jail. He stated that they were later released.

HARRIS advised that when he came home and got out of the Army in early 1946, he wrote an article on the Huk movement and attempted to get it published in several different magazines. He stated that it was eventually published in the 10/15/48 issue of the Commonweal.

The article is as follows:

THE HUK GUERRILLAS

By GORDON L. HARRIS

A painfully familiar story is unfolding in the Philippines where President QUIRINO has learned the bitter futility of compromising with Communism.

Anti-religious as well as anti-government in purpose, the Communist movement in the Islands is spearheaded by the notorious Hukbalahap, or "People's Army against the Japanese." Just as in Greece and elsewhere on the European continent, the Hukbalahap guerrillas supposedly joined the World War II battle against Nazism and Japanese expansion. Instead of disbanding following V-J Day, the Huks increased their strength by forcible recruiting, added to their munitions cache by raiding U. S. Army supply dumps and embarked upon a campaign to seize control of Central Luzon.

The parallel with the Greek situation goes even further. After the late President MANUEL ROXAS launched the new Republic of the Philippines, he ordered the Philippine Army to put down the Communist-inspired insurrection which had paralyzed recovery efforts in provinces whose rice fields and fish ponds are the Islands' larder.

LUIS TARUC, "generalissimo" of Hukbalahap, became an outlaw with a price on his head. Repeated clashes between the Army and Huk squadrons drove these bandit-like gangs back into isolated areas, but failed to smash the Communist strength. Experts at nocturnal raids and terrorist kidnappings, Hukbalahap was just about an even match for the Army on familiar terrain. Nor was the policing process rendered more effective by infiltration tactics carried on within the Philippine Army by Huk agitators.

NK 105-785

Then ROXAS died and QUIRINO was advised to offer peace. He declared a general amnesty, telling the Huks they would be forgiven all crimes except rape--though murder was the No. 1 offense. TARUC was invited to join the Philippine legislature--to which he had been "elected" along with several lieutenants in the early months of 1946. The Roxas administration refused to recognize the election, contending it was achieved through force and intimidation. Huk troops guarded the polling places to make sure no one voted against their leaders. Not a single opposition candidate ran on the same ballot.

By August 14, last day for the Huks to accept amnesty, the grand total of 45 guns had been turned in. President QUIRINO said 4,000 members of the National Peasants Union (P.K.M.) and "displaced persons" accepted the Government's liberal terms. But the Peasants Union claimed a membership of 100,000 and the Huks reportedly owned 40,000 firearms.

In two weeks following August 14, the Government reported 45 persons killed in sporadic outbreaks involving Hukbalahap and the constabulary. On August 29, following QUIRINO'S admission that Hukbalahap is Communist in leadership, TARUC and his lieutenants brazenly conducted a protest meeting in Manila's Plaza Miranda coinciding with Sunday services in Quiapo Cathedral. The man to whom QUIRINO offered peace charged the President failed to live up to his commitments.

For several months following V-J Day, I lived in San Fernando, Pampanga--the focal point of the Communist revolution. I attended Huk demonstrations in Pampanga, Tarlac, Bulacan and Nueva Ecija Provinces--hearing the familiar phrases about "American imperialism" and "Catholic fascism" and "democratic Russia." I saw the Peasants Union flag, a red banner upon which a white peasant's knife was imposed. Back in the barrios where fewer "unfriendly" observers were anticipated, the flag of the hammer and sickle was unfurled.

NK 105-785

This is the area of maximum penetration by the Communists where, for nearly three years, the hold of the Commonwealth Government and then the Republic has indeed been shaky.

This is the bloody battleground where innumerable killings have reddened the soil over which American and Japanese forces fought two campaigns. Where Catholic priests have been tortured and shot if they spoke out against the Communists. On Christmas night, 1944, a priest celebrating midnight mass in Malolos was taken from the church, riddled and bullets and left on the steps to die. In isolated Candaba, the retreat toward which the Huks move in emergencies, a priest was shot through the mouth. I talked to priests whose congregations had been forcibly detained from Mass.

I saw the grave where Huks buried the Governor of Tarlac Province shortly before the 1946 voting. He had been kidnaped, tortured, partially burned and buried alive. Philippine MP's were ambushed and brutally tortured. U.S. Army personnel were fired upon while driving along the main highway between Manila and San Fernando. Army trucks were held up at road blocks and their cargoes stolen. The railway between Manila and the north was frequently raided.

Where UNRRA supplies fell into the hands of municipal authorities under Huk control, they were parceled out only to deserving "barrio lieutenants" actually leaders of Communist cells. Much of the relief goods reached the black market, just as did the rice seized from the peasants by their Union as "dues". Storekeepers also paid tribute. A few were reluctantly persuaded to comply with Huk demands in the city of Angeles when P.K.M. strong men stood outside their doors.

All of this, of course, did not begin spontaneously. Prior to World War II there had been occasional and small-scale uprisings in Pampanga Province--an important source of U.S. sugar supply. There is evidence that as far back as 1925, carefully selected Filipino labor leaders, newspaper editors, men in contact with groups or the means of contacting groups, were sent to Moscow for propaganda schooling.

The No. 1 target then, and now, is the United States. Ouster of American interests from the Islands, particularly removal of U. S. Army, Navy and air bases, has long preoccupied the Communist leadership.

Communists also demanded break-up of estates and ownership of land by the peasants. They wanted a strongly nationalist Philippine government, ownership of public utilities and, of course, a foreign policy slanted towards Russia and away from the U. S.

Coincident with the Japanese invasion, the Communist movement took on new guise. Facing a common enemy, which overran a stout-hearted but hopeless defense by American and Philippine forces, the people turned in desperation to this "grass-roots" movement. Early in 1942 the Socialist-Communist forces met in secret conclave to establish the Hukbalahap. TARUC and his cohorts claim many successes against Japanese occupation forces.

Not until the U.S. Sixth Army returned to Bataan in 1944 did the story of Hukbalahap brutality come to light. If the Huks fought the Japanese, they fought loyal guerrillas under american command even harder. They set out to achieve firm grip on the peasant masses. There is some reason to believe the Communist activity was tolerated by the Japanese because it was anti-American basically and anti-Commonwealth as well.

As the Japanese retreated towards Baguio and inevitable surrender, the Huks made their move. TARUC seized the provincial government, naming his No. 1 lieutenant, ALEJANDRINO, as governor. TARUC refused to place his forces at the disposal of General MAC ARTHUR, insisting upon recognition of his guerrillas as an independent Army of the Philippines. He would not order his men to surrender their weapons, though he promised to do so.

NK 105-785

Finally he was jailed on charges of treason, subversion and murder. But immediately after V-J Day, when the authority of the Commonwealth was reestablished, he was freed by the Solicitor General, LORENZO TANADA. The latter insisted TARUC was guilty of no crime except fighting the Japanese. President OSMENA closed his eyes to the true situation, seeking political help from Hukbalahap against ROXAS. There were unverified reports, however, that the Huks, had penetrated Malacanan, the Philippine "White House" and had threatened the safety of OSMENA'S family.

One of TARUC'S lieutenants had been appointed a Presidential adviser. Many others were recognized as guerrilla officers and given high positions in the Philippine Army. At the camps where guerrillas were processed for recognition and back pay, Huk organizers recruited new adherents to their cause. Huk propaganda, filled with Communist doctrine and violently anti-government, appeared in Philippine Army camps. Officers who resisted were marked men. Many were murdered.

Nor did the Communists confine their infiltration efforts to the military. During the occupation propaganda schools were set up in remote barrios. Educators, doctors, lawyers were spirited away from their homes, to attend classes. Under the guise of protecting them from the Japanese, the Communists sought new voices to spread their doctrines. Anyone who refused to cooperate was immediately branded a collaborator. Huk executioners took care of the recalcitrant.

By liberal use of the smear technique, Communists managed to weaken the faith of the common people in their elected leaders. Either a man was a "collaborator" or "Fascist", if he resisted the Huks. If he lived, he was mistrusted. If he died, well who could prove he was right?

Chinese Communists, just 600 miles from their homeland, joined the revolutionary movement with alacrity. The newspapers they control in Manila supported Hukbalahap and the Peasants Union--actually one and the same organization.

Chinese language schools were opened at district headquarters throughout Central Luzon where the "New Life" philosophy was taught. Chinese bankers or merchants loyal to the Kuomintang were forced to contribute to support the movement. A Chinese legion was formed within Hukbalahap.

The Communist military organization has a basic unit known as a squadron which is responsible for a given area. Within this area it is the supreme authority, conducting secret courts, performing marriages and baptisms under the Red flag, levying taxes, decreeing executions and generally fulfilling the functions of government and church. Lest there be any misunderstanding among youth, Communist teachers were planted in public schools wherever the authority of the Commonwealth could be successfully challenged.

Squadron leaders and their subordinates adopt fictitious names to mask their identities. Such ridiculous soubriquets as "Blue Eagle", "Strong Boy", or "Linda Bie" were proudly used.

Captured Japanese arms and U. S. Army weapons stolen from supply depots gave the Huks despotic authority. Mount Arayat, the volcanic peak rising above the Central Luzon plain, was selected as the primary base of operations. In December, 1946, a B-29 bomber about to land on nearby Clark Field was fired upon by heavy calibre machine guns from emplacements on Arayat. The Huks are known to possess, in quantity, 30-calibre and 45-calibre machine guns, mortars, automatic shoulder weapons and artillery. They also maintain hidden air fields and have military vehicles, including tanks.

Their officers have an excellent comprehension of guerrilla tactics and are expert at "hit-and-run" raids.

As for the peasant, caught between the Communist and Government programs, the postwar period has been a hideous nightmare. He must accept the fact of Communist power, because he has seen it demonstrated in his own barrio. Willing or unwilling, he has no choice but to live with it, supporting it by his rice crop and taxes and, frequently, even to taking up arms. Until and unless the Republic can restore faith in the Government's authority, recovery cannot be achieved in Luzon.

NK 105-785

HARRIS advised that he has never heard of LEE ASH, JR. and could furnish no information regarding him.

He also stated that his best recollection of the LAVA brothers is that VICENTE was the Professor in the University of the Philippines in Manila and Technical Advisor to the Huks. FERNANDO LAVA was the Confidential Advisor to President OSMENA and the third LAVA brother, whose name HARRIS advised he could not remember, was employed in the Censorship Office of the United States Army prior to the end of the war in 1945.

HARRIS also explained that he recalls there was an official record which referred to a 9-point program demanded of Mr. MC NUTT, the United States Commissioner in the Philippines in the fall of 1945 or early 1946 by the Communist Party of the Philippines. He recalled that foremost in this list of demands was the removal of all United States armed forces from the Islands and surrender of United States bases there. This was one of the motivating purposes of the Hukbalahap. He stated that it was his personal opinion that the Communist movement had as its primary purpose the ouster of all United States troops and personnel from the Philippines because the Islands flank the China coast and if we maintained Naval and Air bases we could control the sea lanes to China.

He also stated that there is on file a record of the seizure in a Filipino Military Police raid conducted in

NK 105-785

Tarlac, Philippine Islands, of documents revealing the oath of allegiance required of all members of Hukbalahap or the National Peasants Union. This oath pledged allegiance first to the Communist International, next to the Communist Party of the Philippines and lastly to the Commonwealth Government.

HARRIS advised that he obtained information from an ex-legislator of the Philippine Islands, JUAN TELEO of Nueva Ecija Province of a connection between the CIO in the United States and the Committee on Labor Organization (CLO) which was another arm of the Huk movement. HARRIS stated that CIO representatives who visited the Philippines about V-J Day pledged their support to the labor organizing work and also arranged for regular financial contributions from the United States to the CLO. HARRIS advised that he could not say whether the CIO delegates knew that the CLO was Communist dominated.

HARRIS stated that the Hukbalahap distributed handbills in Manila coincident with the United States Army troop demonstrations demanding early return home for the G.I.s.

"GI's! We want you to know that we are your friends, your brothers in arms who fought with you and shed our blood together with yours to free the the Philippines. All we want is democracy in the Philippines. We support your desire to go home to your loved ones because your job is finished. And we are confident that you will not willingly become pawns in the plot to thwart the will of the people and mar clean, free democratic elections in our country."

HARRIS advised that he had information, at that time, to the effect that the Chinese Communists maintained closest relations with the Huks and that the Chinese Red press in Manila supported them constantly. He stated that in June 1945 there was information that the Chinese Communists in Luzon and the Islands to the South were putting the

'squeeze" on the Nationalist Chinese merchants in the Islands and extracted money from them to support the war in China.

HARRIS stated that since the Spring of 1946, when he was discharged from the Army, he has had no first-hand information of the CP activities in the Philippine Islands which he describes as being synonymous with the Huk movement.

He stated that he has tried to follow the activities closely in newspaper and magazine articles but that he has no knowledge of activities between the Huks or Communists in the Philippines and persons in the United States.

DN 100-5455

DETAILS:

At Denver, Colorado

On February 12, 1953 MORRIS LOUIS APPELMAN furnished the following information regarding his knowledge of the Communist Party of the Philippines (CPP) during the years 1937 through 1939.

APPELMAN'S INTRODUCTION TO THE CPP

Soon after APPELMAN's arrival in Manila in late 1936, he secured employment as an insurance agent with the Elizalde Company, which is a part of the U. S. Life Insurance Company. APPELMAN stated he secured this position through ~~BILL BORRELL~~, who was in charge of that particular office.

APPELMAN recalled reading an article in one of the Manila newspapers that there was to be a meeting held at the Chinese YMCA in Manila regarding Chinese and Japanese relations. On his own accord, APPELMAN attended the meeting, and noted that he was the only American present. He gave a speech lauding the efforts of the Chinese people to establish economic stability, and urged the boycott of Japan. APPELMAN related that as a result of his talk and because he was an American, he received a tumultuous applause. At this meeting, APPELMAN met ALFONSO SYCIP, a Chinese who is president of the China Chamber of Commerce. SYCIP then introduced APPELMAN to VICENTE LAVA, who is described as a professor of chemistry at the University of the Philippines (U of P).

APPELMAN had many discussions with LAVA, and was invited by LAVA to join the Communist Party of the Philippines, which he did. APPELMAN was assigned to a branch of the CPP which included a professional or university class of people who held their meetings at the U of P.

After a few meetings, APPELMAN was elected treasurer of this group, and this was the only position he ever held in the CPP during the years, 1937 through 1939.

CPP APPROACH TO PEOPLE

APPELMAN related that the main purpose and aim of the CPP was to improve the economic conditions of the peasants in the Philippines. APPELMAN recalled that JESUS LAVA, a brother of VICENTE LAVA, wrote an essay entitled, "Economic Analysis of Philippine Peasant". APPELMAN stated that in view of the fact that he never was assigned to any of the "workers" or "peasants" groups or sections of the CPP, he is not aware of the manner or approach that was made to the "workers" or "peasants" to recruit them into the Communist movement. APPELMAN related that in view of the fact that the majority of the citizens of the Philippines are Catholics, that no criticism was ever directed toward religion by the leaders of the CPP to his knowledge.

THE CPP MEMBERSHIP

APPELMAN stated that he could not guess at the membership of the CPP during those years, as he was only aware of approximately ten or fifteen individuals who were members of the CPP. He stated that most of his efforts in the CPP were directed to the small intellectual group who were members of the group of which he was treasurer, and those individuals who later attended book reviews and discussions at the waffle shop named "The Ivory Tower".

CPP ACTIVITY REGARDING THE SPANISH CIVIL WAR

APPELMAN related that some type of a committee was organized in Manila and was not entirely controlled or dominated by the CPP. He does not now recall the name of this committee. This committee was organized and directed by an American businessman named WILLIAM R. BABCOCK. APPELMAN stated that BABCOCK was not a CPP member, but was a CPP sympathizer. APPELMAN recalled that BABCOCK was friendly to the Spanish Loyalist (Consul) at Manila at that time. APPELMAN recalled that BABCOCK knew several of the CPP members. EDGAR SNOW stayed at Babcock's house at one time when he was in Manila. BABCOCK adopted a Spanish child during the Spanish Civil War and paid for the support of that child in Spain. BABCOCK's wife was named POLLY, who later worked for the YWCA in New York or New Jersey.

APPELMAN stated he thinks BABCOCK presently resides in Princeton, New Jersey.

APPELMAN stated that many individuals, including himself, contributed large sums of money to this committee to aid the Loyalist forces in Spain.

CPP LEADERSHIP

APPELMAN related that he didn't know enough about the CPP leadership except VICENTE LAVA. APPELMAN stated that LAVA was a true

Marxist, and appeared to be a good leader of the CPP among professional groups. APPELMAN stated that GUILLERMO CAPADOCIA was considered to be one of the leaders of the CPP, having been trained in Russia, and apparently had a higher position than LAVA.

CPP FINANCIAL CONDITION

APPELMAN related that he recalls that a collection of dues and other donations for the CPP were very small. For those who could afford to pay dues, such as himself, APPELMAN related that the monthly dues were approximately the same as the dues for the Communist Party, USA, i.e., 5% or 10% of the monthly income of the member.

APPELMAN stated he suspected that the CPP must have secured funds from either the Communist Party, USA, or directly from the USSR in order to pay those individuals working full time for the CPP and to finance certain CPP propaganda efforts in Manila.

CPP CONNECTION WITH THE COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

When APPELMAN arrived at Manila, he was not immediately contacted by any members of the CPP. APPELMAN explained that when he left the United States in the latter part of 1936 to go to China, he had been instructed to drop any Communist Party, USA connection or activity by the specific instructions of EARL BROWDER. When he learned that he could not land in Shanghai, he decided to go to Manila and await instructions from the Communist Party, USA. APPELMAN stated that he did not now recall how he communicated with the Communist Party, USA, but that apparently, he had received some word to remain in Manila.

APPELMAN stated his past activities in the Communist movement apparently were made known to VICENTE LAVA, in view of the fact that LAVA appeared to be very open with him in their discussions of the Communist movement. Later on, JAMES ALLEN, whose real name is SOL AUERBACH, came to Manila for the purpose of inspecting the Communist Party of the Philippines.

APPELMAN learned from his discussions with LAVA and ALLEN that the CPP was under the sponsorship of the Communist Party, USA. (More information regarding APPELMAN's contacts with ALLEN is reported below.)

Stearns

CPP CONNECTION WITH THE COMINTERN

LAVA introduced APPELMAN to a Filipino called "BULL", whom LAVA described as a Comintern Agent. LAVA also identified GUILLERMO CAPADOCIA as a Comintern representative in the Philippines. Both "BULL" and CAPADOCIA were supposed to have been educated in Moscow.

APPELMAN recalled that on several occasions, both of these individuals had attempted to inject pro-USSR sympathies into the CPP.

MORRIS APPELMAN'S EXPULSION FROM THE CPP

In the latter part of 1938 or early 1939, JAMES ALLEN, who described himself as an American author, contacted MORRIS APPELMAN in Manila. APPELMAN stated he knew ALLEN in New York City in connection with the Communist Party, USA. APPELMAN stated that JAMES ALLEN was a pen name or a Communist Party name used by ALLEN, and that his real name was SOL AUERBACH.

ALLEN told APPELMAN he had learned that APPELMAN had not defended the USSR in discussions in the CPP and other groups in relation to the USSR-Finish war. APPELMAN stated he told ALLEN that was probably true, as he personally opposed the policies of the USSR in its invasion of Finland. After several hours of argument and discussion, ALLEN told APPELMAN he should leave the Philippines immediately and return to the United States. APPELMAN refused to do so, and wrote a letter of explanation to EARL BROWDER regarding the arguments and discussions he had with JAMES ALLEN. ALLEN threatened that if APPELMAN would not return to the United States, he, ALLEN, would see that the CPP and the Communist Party, USA, would label APPELMAN as "an enemy of the working class".

APPELMAN learned a few weeks after his meeting with ALLEN from VICENTE LAVA, that ALLEN had attempted to so label APPELMAN in Manila, but LAVA had been successful in not publishing APPELMAN's expulsion from the CPP and the labeling him as "an enemy of the working class".

APPELMAN stated that he later learned an article appeared in the Daily Worker, an East Coast Communist newspaper which accused APPELMAN of stealing CPP funds and labeled him as "an enemy of the working class".

VICENTE LAVA, SR.

APPELMAN related that LAVA was a professor of chemistry at the University of the Philippines, and was the oldest of three brothers. LAVA was one of the leaders of the CPP in the Philippines and had studied Marxism-Leninism. LAVA did not attempt to hide his CPP sympathies, and was generally known at the university for his ideas. VICENTE LAVA was connected in some way with Indusco.

JOSE (PACO) LAVA

APPELMAN stated he recalled a man named JOSE or PACO LAVA who was an attorney and a brother of VICENTE LAVA. He recalls that JOSE attended one or two CPP meetings at the U of P.

JESUS LAVA

APPELMAN recalled another brother of VICENTE LAVA named JESUS, who is a teacher and who wrote an essay entitled, "Economic Analysis of the Philippine Peasant".

RUTH LAVA

APPELMAN stated that RUTH was the wife of VICENTE LAVA, and as he recalls, she was an American. APPELMAN stated she was sympathetic to the CPP cause, but that he could not say whether or not she was a member, nor does he recall her participating in any specific activity of the CPP.

VICENTE LAVA, SR.'S CHILDREN

APPELMAN recalled that the LAVAS had two children, a girl named [] age about [] and a son named [] age about [] in 1936.

b6
b7c

100-72893

KENNETH KURIHARI

OS. APPELMAN recalled that KURIHARI was a professor at the U of P, and was married to a white woman. APPELMAN stated that KURIHARI was a member of the CPP.

AUGUSTINE RUDOLPHO

Bureau 11-4-53 captioned "Communist Party of the Philippines 1937-1939, Internal Security - C," and the report of SA William C. O'Donnell, dated 8-24-53 at New York, New York, captioned "Simeon Ochoco, wa., Internal Security - PI." (64-200-239-260 and 105-21686-11)

A Mrs. Partridge of Montclair, New Jersey, is mentioned in the report of SA O'Donnell referred to above as the sister of Dr. Vicente Lava's American wife. The report of SA Philip J. Fleming, dated February 7, 1952, at Washington, D. C., captioned "Frances Lava Wright, aka., Internal Security - R & PI," Bufile 100-354000, Newark file 105-209, New York file 105-3501, copies of which were designated for the Newark and New York offices, indicates that the name of Dr. Lava's wife is Ruth Propper Lava. This report on page 2 lists the name of one Mrs. Hugh Partridge, 5 Audubon Place, Fairlawn, New Jersey, as one of the persons listed by Frances Propper Lava to be notified in case of emergency. The report of SA Norberto Quintana, dated March 23, 1952, at Newark, New Jersey, captioned "Frances Lava Wright, nee Frances Propper Lava, Mrs. William J. Wright, Internal Security - R & PI," a copy of which was not designated for the New York office, contains information concerning Hugh Partridge and his wife, Martha. (100-354000-16)

Mrs. Hugh Partridge may possibly be identical with the Mrs. Partridge mentioned in the report of SA O'Donnell mentioned above, and her maiden name may possibly be Propper. Conduct appropriate investigation to determine Mrs. Hugh Partridge's maiden name and whether she is the sister of Ruth Propper Lava, whose husband, Dr. Vicente Lava, reportedly was a Communist Party leader in the Philippines. If it is determined that Mrs. Hugh Partridge's maiden name is Propper and/or if it is determined that she is the sister of Ruth Propper Lava, furnish the Bureau with any derogatory information that may be contained in your files concerning her and her husband; the reasons which lead you to believe that she may possibly have valuable information concerning Dr. and Mrs. Vicente Lava and their relationship to the Communist Party; and your recommendations relative to an interview with her.

For your assistance in the above matter, the report of SA Leonard J. INTERNAL SECURITY - CReference: Report of SA WILLIAM C. O'DONNELL, dated 8/24/53 at New York, entitled "SIMON OCHOOCO, wa. IS-PI."

Referenced report reflects that SIMON OCHOOCO, with alias, advised on 8/13/53 that Dr. VICTOR G. LAVA, leading Philippine Scientist, now deceased, who was formerly the "brains" of the Huks, a Guerilla Band in the Philippines, had an American wife. OCHOOCO did not know her name, but stated that her sister, a Mrs. PARTRIDGE, who resides in Montclair, N.J., had written him for information concerning her sister since his return to the U.S.

The report of SA JOSEPH C. LEARNED, dated 3/11/53 at Denver, entitled "COMMUNIST PARTY OF THE PHILIPPINES, 1937-1939, IS-C," states that one MORRIS LEONARD APPELMAN furnished information regarding his knowledge of the Communist Party of the Philippines during the years 1937-1939. APPELMAN was described as a member and leader of the Communist Party from 1925 to 1939, having served the Party in many different places. APPELMAN described VICTOR LAVA, Dr., as being a Professor of Chemistry at the University of the Philippines, and one of the leaders of the Communist Party in the Philippines. Further, he stated that LAVA was a student of Marxism and Leninism. He stated that LAVA did not attempt to hide his Communist Party sympathies, and was generally known at the University for his Communist Party ideas, and as a good leader of the Communist Party among the professional groups in the Philippines.

It is believed that Mrs. PARTRIDGE, mentioned by OCHOOCO, might possibly have valuable information concerning her sister and a brother-in-law, and their activities in relationship to the Communist Party. Consequently, if the Bureau deems it advisable to interview Mrs. PARTRIDGE, further information concerning Mrs. PARTRIDGE is needed. In referenced report, no address or identifying information was set out. The only PARTRIDGE in the Montclair Telephone Directory and the City Directory is W.D. INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Rebulet to Newark, 12/14/53, entitled "COMMUNIST ACTIVITIES IN THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS; INTERNAL SECURITY - PI."

In a letter from Baltimore to Newark, dated 7/1/49, captioned "VISHNEE DATTAREYA GOKHALE; SECURITY MATTER - C," it was stated that Mrs. WILLIAM J. WRIGHT, a Filipino, whose name formerly was FRANCES LAVA, and whose father, VICENTE LAVA, was General Secretary of the Communist Party in the Philippines from the beginning of World War II until his death in September 1946, had relatives in Fair Lawn, NJ, by the name of PARTRIDGE. From the Wolbrook Junction Post Office, Baltimore, Maryland, it was determined on 4/28/49 that the forwarding address of Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM J. WRIGHT was 5 Audubon Place, Fair Lawn, NJ.

The Fair Lawn, NJ, City Directory lists HUGH R. PARTRIDGE as residing at 5 Audubon Place, Fair Lawn, NJ. It also listed his wife's name as MARTHA and his two sons as [] and [] PARTRIDGE. His occupation is listed as Treasurer; however, his place of employment was not indicated.

The Credit Bureau of Bergen and Passaic Counties, 25 Church Street, Paterson, NJ, had the following information regarding HUGH R. PARTRIDGE in their files. HUGH R. PARTRIDGE, 5 Audubon Place, Fair Lawn, NJ, is 54 years of age and married. He has lived at this address since 1937 and previous to this at 1 Bolton Place, Radburn, NJ, since 1931 and before this at 125 West 176th Street, New York, NY, for six years. He has his wife and two sons as dependents and nothing of an adverse nature was learned regarding his personal reputation. Regarding his occupation, it was noted that PARTRIDGE was employed as Assistant Secretary of H. H. Pike & Sons, 63 Wall Street, New York, NY, and has been employed there since 1932. Previous to that, he was with Monttgomery Scott & Company, 10 Broadway, New York, NY, for about one year. The records of the Credit Bureau reflect that the home at 5 Audubon Place is a one-family dwelling in a desirable residential section of the community which PARTRIDGE rents from the Radburn Management Corporation, Radburn, NJ. Monthly rental is estimated at $85. They live there under favorable conditions and are well regarded locally. It is to be noted that the Credit Bureau report is dated 7/26/46.

On 12/18/53, Captain LOUIS J. REISACHER, Fair Lawn Police Department, advised that HUGH PARTRIDGE and his wife, MARTHA PARTRIDGE, and their two sons, [] and [] presently reside at 5 Audubon Place, Fair Lawn, N.J. He further stated that he has information that [] birth date is [] and that [] was born on []. Through liaison with the New York Police Department, Captain REISACHER stated it was determined that birth records of New York County reflect that [] PARTRIDGE was born to MARTHA PROPPER PARTRIDGE on 5/1/29.

Files of the Newark Office contain no derogatory information concerning MARTHA PROPPER PARTRIDGE or HUGH PARTRIDGE.

In referenced letter, it points out that the name of Dr. LAVA'S wife, in the Philippines, is RUTH PROPPER LAVA.

It is felt that since information indicated that MARTHA PROPPER PARTRIDGE is the sister of the wife of Dr. VICENTE LAVA, deceased, reportedly a former Communist Party leader in the Philippines, and further since it appears, as a result of previous investigation, that FRANCES LAVA, daughter of Dr. LAVA, did visit the PARTRIDGES, there is at least an active relationship.

Consequently, the possibility exists wherein Mrs. PARTRIDGE, as a result of correspondence and the visit by FRANCES LAVA, may have come across valuable information concerning Dr. and Mrs. VICENTE LAVA and their relationship to the Communist Party.

Bureau permission is requested to interview Mrs. MARTHA PARTRIDGE for the above-stated reasons.
